

TIFFANY FOUNDS SCHOOL OF ART

Turns Over Estate and Cold Springs Harbor Collections To Foundation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Announcement was made yesterday that Louis Comfort Tiffany has turned over his estate and collections at Cold Spring Harbor, together with an endowment of more than a million dollars for the foundation of an institution where artists and art students of professional maturity may pursue studies and original work under the most favorable conditions. The institution will be known as the Louis Comfort Tiffany Foundation.

Work has already been started to convert the buildings on the estate into studios and dormitories and it is expected that the first dozen students, all men, may be installed in May.

In addition to the founder the following will constitute the board of trustees: Robert W. de Forest, Daniel Chester French, Francis C. Jones, George F. Kunz, Henry W. de Forest and Charles L. Tiffany, with George F. Heydt as secretary and treasurer. An advisory art committee has been appointed with Cass Gilbert, Robert Vonnah, Harry W. Wadsworth and Mrs. W. A. W. Stewart as members.

Lothrop To Be Director.

Stanley Lothrop, formerly with the Boston Museum and more recently lecturer in fine arts in the American Academy in Rome, has been appointed director of the foundation and is already established at Laurelton Hall, the name of Mr. Tiffany's place at Cold Spring Harbor.

The foundation of this institution is understood to be the consummation of a long cherished dream of Mr. Tiffany. He has worked in almost all the arts himself, being a painter and sculptor of skill and a designer of costumes, textiles and interior decorations as well as the inventor and developer of the famous Tiffany glass. His collections at Cold Spring Harbor contain no great classic originals, but cover perhaps the widest field of any collection in this country, embracing well chosen examples in both the fine and applied arts, Oriental as well as Occidental.

Though all of Mr. Tiffany's trustees and the art advisory committee indicate that the academic tradition will pervade the atmosphere at Cold Spring Harbor, Mr. Tiffany has made it very plain that he is not founding a school of dogma, but a place where men, and later women, of promise and knowledge may work out their own ideas in both the fine and the industrial arts.

Founder Explains.

"My intention," Mr. Tiffany said, "is to provide a place where artists who have had elementary training and who show real ability, can work in sympathetic and inspiring surroundings. There will, of course, be necessary rules which must be observed, but there will be no head master to prescribe cast iron methods of teaching to which all must conform. My hope is by stimulating love of beauty and imagination to give free play to development without the trammels of schools or conventions."

The estate comprises eighty acres. For the present it is planned to operate the institution only in the summer. As the facilities are improved, however, it is stated that women students will be admitted and that the institution may be kept open the year round.

Mr. Tiffany's art library which he has also turned over is one of the largest and best selected in New York. He will continue to live on the place, but will not attempt to direct its work. It is understood that a small fee will be charged for the living expenses of students, but that in certain worthy cases even this will be remitted.

SEEKS $10,000 DAMAGES FOR ACCIDENT INJURIES

Henry Bauman today filed suit in the District Supreme Court against Virginia Newlee for $10,000 damages, for alleged personal injuries. Bauman, represented by Attorneys Mason N. Richardson and Charles S. Shreve, alleges that on October 28, 1916, while crossing Sixteenth street at the intersection of Irving street, northwest, he was run into by defendant's automobile, and severely and permanently injured.

Quiet Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Helen Alice Robinson, of Chicago, and James Hoyt Voemans, son of the late Judge Voemans, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, took place quietly on Saturday. The ceremony was performed at noon by Rev. Dr. S. H. Greene, of Calvary Baptist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Voemans will be at home after November 1 at the Cumberland apartment.

The Serbian Fete, for which the Minister of the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes and Mme. Grouitch stand as sponsors, grows in importance as the time for the two days' entertainment approaches. Thursday, October 23, and Friday, October 24, both afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Wilson has graciously bought a box, which she will occupy, as the President's condition will not warrant her leaving him.

Announcement was made yesterday in Paris by H. Fessenden Meserve of the engagement of Miss Lascelle J. Meserve to Nicolas de Basilly, counselor of the Russian embassy, representing Admiral Kilchak, head of the Omak government in Paris.

Miss Meserve is the daughter of the late Mrs. Fessenden Meserve by her first marriage. She was Miss Lascelle J. MacCluskey and took her stepfather's name a few years ago. She was educated abroad and has lived much in Paris and in Russia, her stepfather's connection with the foreign department of the National City Bank of New York keeping them in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Meserve built a handsome house in Washington several years ago, but they did not occupy it until last winter. Mrs. Meserve and her daughter spent that season here, taking an active part in society, working with Mrs. George Bakhtmeteff, wife of the former Imperial Russian ambassador to the United States, and Mrs. George T. Marye, whose husband has been American ambassador to Russia. Mrs. Meserve and Miss Meserve arranged a Russian ball, which was one of the most brilliant events of an unusually brilliant season.

The procedure was to maintain the American Refugee for Orphan Children in Petrograd, of which both Mrs. Marye and Mrs. Meserve had been directors during their residence in the Russian capital.

In the early spring Mr. and Mrs. Meserve went to Paris and soon afterward Mrs. Meserve died there.

The list of patronesses for the Halloween ball to be given on the evening of October 30 at the New Willard for the benefit of Trinity Community House is growing daily. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's name heads the list, and others who have consented to serve are Mrs. Newton D. Baker, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, Mrs. Truman Newberry, Mrs. John Skelton Williams and Mrs. Henry Getty Chilton.

Mrs. Charles B. Hawry, who is in charge of the bridge, which will be a feature of the entertainment, reports that the men are showing great interest, and many of them have engaged tables. Myer Davis' Orchestra will play for the dancing, and there will also be a military band.

Major William Eric Fowler, who has recently been released from the service, will be floor manager, and will be assisted by a committee of prominent men. Major Fowler took a prominent part in directing the ball for the benefit of the permanent blind relief and the Salvation Army ball, which were two of the most successful events of last winter.

Mrs. James Carroll Frazer is chairman of the ball committee.

Dr. Morgan Returns.

Dr. William Gerry Morgan has returned from a brief visit in New York, where Mrs. Morgan and Miss Morgan are visiting friends. Dr. and Mrs. Morgan have leased for the winter the home of Mrs. Annie Wells at 1704 Connecticut avenue, and will take possession November 1.

H. J. W. Heckington, of Calif., England, British delegate to the labor conference, has arrived in Washington, and is staying at Wardman Park Hotel.

The officers and ladies of the Officers' Club of Washington will give a reception on Saturday evening, from 9 to 11 o'clock, in honor of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. James McAndrew and the officers and ladies of the faculty, staff colleges and Maj. Gen. Clarence C. Williams, the chief of ordnance, and the officers and ladies of the Ordnance Department.

A reception will be held this evening from 9 to 1 o'clock at Washington Barracks, in the new Recreation and Club Building of the Welfare Association of the selective Service Records Division.

Among those invited are Secretary and Mrs. Baker, General Pershing and staff, General and Mrs. MacAndrews, officers and ladies of the post, Chaplain J. F. Duffy, Adjutant General Harris and Mr. O'Brien, A. G. O.

The marriage of Miss Caroline Wilson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles G. Wilson of Clarksville, Tenn., and Dr. Herbert Kinkaid, of Knoxville, Tenn., took place Saturday at noon in the Church of the Covenant. The ceremony which was witnessed by a small company of relatives and close friends was performed by Rev. Charles Wood pastor of the church.

The bride and bridegroom who were unattended entered the church together, the bride wearing a gown of mauve duvetine trimmed with Australian possum and a hat of the same shades. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

The usual wedding march was omitted and instead an appropriate program was rendered by the organist of the church, Mr. Murray. Miss Nettie Craig sang a group of beautiful old English songs before the ceremony.

Immediately after Dr. and Mrs. Kinkaid left for New York, and from there they will later go to Hot Springs, Va.

They will be at home in Knoxville, Tenn., after November 15.

The out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Wilson of Baltimore, brother and sister-in-law of the President; Dr. and Mrs. Charles G. Wilson, mother and father of the bride; C. C. Wilson, brother of the bride; M. G. Wallace of Richmond, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Slaughter of Culpeper, Va.; and Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Lowe of New York City.

The Kappa Alpha Fraternity of George Washington University gave a dance Friday evening for its pledged men. After the eight o'clock guests were gathered into the main ball room to witness a mock wedding. The participants were the pledge men. John C. Byers made a most amusing speech, introducing each member of the wedding party.

After the wedding George Myers sang several solos and later in the evening refreshments were served.

The chaperones were Mrs. W. R. Myers and Mrs. Henry Hollingsworth. James Hugh Davis, John Ward, and George Myers made up the committee on arrangements.
